GROW'S PLAYING FEATURED GAME

Burlington Defeated Montpelier 11 to 4 Saturday Afternoon-Harris, Pitching for Montpelier, Was Batted Hard.

Manager Dobbs sent pitcher Harris into the fray Saturday afternoon at Intercity park against Burlington, with the hopes that the old portsider might show the fans some real class in the art of pitching; but the big fellow disappointed his boss, as the Burlington team took a liking to his delivery to the extent of a nome run, a three-bagger, four doubles and seven singles, for a total of 11 runs, as against four for the Montpelier team. While Harris was hit hard and often throughout the game, it was not all his fault that the Burlington team ran up as arge a score as they did, for the backing he received to help check the big drive was about as strong as an air rifle corps would be bombarding a line of German trenches. Bresnahan, Doyle, and others too numerous to mention, took several balloon ascensions at critical times that slowed the game. There were few features aside from the heavy bitting of the Burlington team and two phenomenal plays by Grow, the Queen City shortstop. One was a grass cutter that he scooped near the second station and the other a short infield fly that he caught at his shoe laces. Grow contributed the best hit of the game. when he connected with one of Harris' shoots, driving it far over the center field barrier for a home run. Aside from these few snaps of life, the game was of little interest, as the Burlington team ham-mered out six of their runs in the second inning. Montpelier not having a show from then to the finish. The score is as follows:
